

I do not want to listen to cell phone conversations while in the air. Also, what about security? Could cell phones be used to trigger an explosive device in the cargo compartment?